To our second born, absolute source of joy, and daughter who is a dream come true. We are lucky parents who could ask for nothing more from a child who has so successfully transformed from a beautiful baby girl into a superb example of young womanhood. You have become a devoted Christian, talented artist, and source of inspiration to your entire family. Our joy is surpassed only by our sure knowledge that you will succeed beyond your wildest dreams and our prayer is that you have a long, happy, and purpose-filled life. God has blessed you so. He must have a wonderful purpose in store for you. Congratulations and all our love.

To my precious son and best friend
Brandon:

I love you more than life itself.
You are the most perfect son a Mom could ever have. I wish for you a long, prosperous, and most of all happy and healthy life. You will thrive at whatever you choose--you always do. You will always be my little boy.

Abby Guider,
We are so proud of all you've accomplished,
feats both great and small.
A 4-year journey begun--now finished--with you walking tall.
Early mornings, late nights, research, essays and class;
What seemed to take so long, now suddenly is past.
Look at you, Girdie, prepared, confident, and gifted;
Into the big, wide world you go.
One thing remains unchanged forever--
WE ALL LOVE YOU SO!

*It's a happy day to graduate and go on to the next chapter of your life. It's a sad day to leave your "close friends" behind, but I know you will see them again. We are so very proud of you and only wish those that have passed away (Papa, Great Grandma, Auntie, Gook, etc.)
could be with you this day as well. I know they are in spirit. How proud they would be, how proud we are. We know your education isn't over, and we also know Maryville College must have been a God send. It has been a good "temporary home" for you, especially at Carnegie. We love you, and may God continue to shower his blessings upon you and Christi, our soldiers and the leaders of our country, your friends, Maryville College, and the rest of us.*

Congratulations Marissa! We are so proud of you and all you have accomplished in the last four years at Maryville College. Double majoring isn't easy, but you pulled it off with excellence. Our dream for you is that you will use your success in school and in life to serve God and humanity better. Always stick close to God and stay on the road he has paved for you. "You will make known to me the path of life; In your presence is fullness of joy; In Your right hand there are pleasures forever." Psalm 16:11. We know that your future will be very bright.

School is fun because you get to go outside and you get to read and reading is fun because you get to find out what happens in the story and also you get to learn more and all kinds of other things. and every body is nice here I like it here.

Ashley,

Congratulations! It hasn't been an easy road, but you did it! We are so very proud of you!

Love you very much,

James Benton Baxter

December 2, 1984 - May 3, 2004

James Benton Baxter came to Maryville College in the fall of 2003 and began his studies with the desire to be a Chemistry major. His interests and abilities in science drew him to becoming a member of the American Chemical Society. He wanted to give back to the community and did so by volunteering at the Good Samaritan Clinic in Maryville. He was loved by God, family, and friends.

He will be missed.

“Debugged” Explained

Most of you are probably wondering by now, “Why the theme ‘Debugged’?” Is this some inside joke that the computer geek editor had to get into the yearbook or does the school have a serious pest control problem?

If you look up debug in the Merriam Webster dictionary, it says the definition is either “to remove insects from” or “to eliminate errors in or malfunctions of.” Now it probably sounds as if we are trying to find problems with the school and “eliminate” them, but the truth is that it was the yearbook staff that came up with and chose the theme. Here is why. . .

The staff was brainstorming for the theme at the beginning of the year when the campus was having tons of trouble with viruses, bugs, and trojans on the internet and network. It was also the same time that the IT staff was going crazy trying to help students and faculty clear their computers of the bugs. So the debugged theme was born with the idea that when someone debugs something, he or she has to take the thing apart and look at each piece individually to find the bug. Therefore, we decided to use the “Debugged” theme to take the school apart and look at each aspect of college life at Maryville.

We hope this helped answer any questions you may have had about the theme. We also hope you had as much fun looking at the book as we had making it!

Chilhowean editors

Wow, it's hard to believe that I have been here for three years and that I am FINALLY a senior! Where have the years gone? Moving here from a small, rural town in west Tennessee was certainly a change for me and at first I wasn't sure I could handle it. But time has a way of changing things and I have come to know Maryville as my home. My attitude, perceptions, and outlook on life have been both challenged and in some cases changed all for the better. I feel that by being here I have grown so much and I don't regret any time that I have spent here..except maybe having to deal with a fire alarm at three in the morning or other random experiences one encounters while performing the duties of an RA. As the Bette Midler song goes, "you got to have friends" and at this time I would like to thank a few people for walking alongside me on my journey here at Maryville.

Becky Lucas- Thanks for all your support and encouragement with both STEA and CLOSET. You make my day every time we talk; I hope that you will continue to be a beacon of light and energy on this campus for years to come.

Elisabeth Lanois - I have really enjoyed having you as a both a teacher and as a friend. You were always willing to help and you made learning fun. I hope that I can continue to consult you when I get into a bind with my French.

Smith Jean-Philippe- What can I say? You are a great RLC and person. I had fun working with you in both Gamble and Lloyd. Keep up the good work; I'll miss you next year.

Sherry Kasper- (cranks up the Wonder Woman theme song) You are the world's greatest advisor! I have had so much fun just talking and getting to know you. Thanks for your continued support. I couldn't have asked for a cooler advisor.

Carly, Helen, and Shelley- "How bout them chicken fingers?" I had so much fun with you guys, ranging from the late night movies to the 3 am Taco Bell runs. You made me laugh and kept me sane. Thanks for a great year!

And the beat goes on,

Jessie Burkhardt, 2003-2004 Assistant Editor

Vanity J. BelAir

One more attempt at writing an editor's page...what are you supposed to write in one of these things anyway? Some people read them, some don't. Some people take them seriously, some don't. There is no way to tell, but if you do actually read this, you will hopefully know that this is one of the few times I am actually being serious. So here goes nothing...

Since I'm not the best at offering advice, I'll refer you to two articles that sum up what I would like underclassmen (and even graduates) to consider. Number one: SUBMIT YOUR PICTURES TO THE YEAR-BOOK! It makes it easier on the staff and ensures a variety of people in the final book. Number two: If you haven't yet, read Ashley Groth's "Reflections of life at MC" and Scott King's "Hurry up, please. It's time." in the final issue of the Echo for this year. I couldn't agree more with both articles. In addition to these, here are a few more things to remember that have helped my experience here be the best possible: Don't focus on the negative, no matter how prevalent it may be. Be thankful for what you do possess and try to see the good in everything. It all happens for a reason!

Now for the thank yous-

Michelle - I'm really gonna miss bugging you everyday. Thanks for putting up with it all and letting me take care of Waffles. It's been wunnerful!

Bethany, Ralph, and Amanda - Without you guys, this book would not turn out as well as it has. Thanks for all the help, advice, suggestions, and creative hints.

Steph, Karly, Ash, and Lauren - Everyone should be so fortunate as to have four awesome people in their lives. "You Raise Me Up" is the perfect song for you girls (and all my buds). You have kept me laughing, kept me sane, and helped me keep my "chill factor." I love you, girls!

Marcus Kenny, John Hulquist, and our military - I don't know how you guys do it, but I am so grateful you do. Giving up the easy carefree life of a college student to go thousands of miles from home to fight for your life and our way of life is deserving of something great, but hopefully, a simple, but sincere, thank you will suffice for now.

Thanks also goes to the yearbook staff, the usual crew that hung out in "Da Sauce," Karyn Adams, students and faculty that submitted pictures for this year's book, and to the entire MC community for creating the memories that make the yearbook possible and for making this the best four years of my life!
